Competition: specific sectors, aids granted by states, art. 93 EC Treaty

1998/0060(CNS) - 18/02/1998 - Legislative proposal

OBJECTIVE: the proposal for a regulation seeks to increase transparency and legal certainty by codifying and clarifying procedural rules in the field of state aid. SUBSTANCE: At present, the only legal provisions on State aid procedures are those of Article 93 of the Treaty. However, through the Commission's practice and also the case law of the Court of Justice, a whole set of rules has been developed, which, due to the fragmentation of rules, is not transparent enough. The proposed regulation will allow the integration of the procedural rules in one coherent text. The Commission's proposal confirms that the obligation of prior notification and the 'standstill' principle established by Article 93(3) constitute the cornerstone of the system of control of State aid. Following the existing case-law of the Court of Justice, the Commission confers the obligation pursuant to Article 93(3) on the Member State concerned. The State aid control procedure is thus largely based upon a dialogue between the Commission and the Member State concerned which is the 'ordinary law' interlocutor of the Commission.

Competition: specific sectors, aids granted by states, art. 93 EC Treaty

1998/0060(CNS) - 22/03/1999 - Final act

PURPOSE: to increase transparency and legal safety by codifying and clarifying the rules of procedure in the field of State aids. COMMUNITY MEASURE: Council regulation 659/1999/EC laying down detailed rules for the application of Article 93 of the EC Treaty. CONTENT: the Commission, in accordance with the case-law of the Court of Justice, has developed and established a consistent practice for the application of Article 93 of the EC Treaty and has laid down certain procedural rules and principles in a number of communications. This regulation codifies and reinforces this practice with a view to ensuring increased transparency and legal certainty. The regulation confirms that the notification obligation and the standstill clause established by Article 93, paragraph 3 of the EC Treaty represent the keystone of the system of State aid control. In accordance with existing case-law, it attributes the obligations resulting from Article 93 paragraph 3 to the Member State concerned which is always the subject of the decision adopted by the Commission. ENTRY INTO FORCE: 16.04.1999.

Competition: specific sectors, aids granted by states, art. 93 EC Treaty

1998/0060(CNS) - 14/01/1999 - Text adopted by Parliament, 1st reading/single reading

In adopting its resolution drafted by Mr. Javier AREITIO TOLEDO (E, EPP), the Parliament approved the Commission's proposal subject to a number of amendments. These amendments seek to widen the concept of "existing aid" as certain forms of aid granted some time ago might still have a detrimental impact on the single market. Other amendments seek to ensure that Parliament and the Member States are informed when one Member State grants new aid. This would allow them to react to any aid that they consider to be illegal. The Parliament also called for the improvement of procedures enabling Member States to recover aid granted unlawfully.
