Sparkling wines produced in the Community (amend. regul. 2332/92/EEC)

OBJECTIVE: to amend Article 17 of Regulation (EEC) No 2332/92 with a view to laying down a standard fermentation time for which the cuvée must remain on the lees, to be observed when following each of the different fermentation methods used. SUBSTANCE: it is proposed that fermentation, in all of the different methods used to produce sparkling wines, should continue for a standard minimum period of 90 days. ?

Sparkling wines produced in the Community (amend. regul. 2332/92/EEC)

As regard the proposal concerning sparkling wines (amending regulation 2332/92/EEC), the ESC welcomes the proposal to establish a standard minimum duration of the fermentation process.?

Sparkling wines produced in the Community (amend. regul. 2332/92/EEC)

The committee approved the report by Mrs KLASS unanimously with 1 abstention. The European Commission had proposed amendments to four regulations but the European Parliament had only been consulted on two (823/87 and 2332/92). The regulations in question concern the designation used for certain qwpsr and their labelling. It should be noted that the majority of members had presented amendments to the two regulations on which the European Parliament had not been consulted. The rapporteur proposed that they be inserted in the two regulations on which the European Parliament had been consulted. In particular, amendment no. 22 by Mrs LULLING (PPE, L) and Mr BEBEAR (PPE, F) (Reg. 2233/92) concerning "use of the term 'crémant' on quality sparkling wines psr in specific regions in Member States..." obtained in accordance with minimum regulations: i.e. "they should come from must obtained by pressing whole grapes from traditional vine varieties produced in specific regions".?

Sparkling wines produced in the Community (amend. regul. 2332/92/EEC)

In adopting the report by Mrs Christina KLASS (PPE, D), Parliament approved the proposal for a regulation allowing all Member States to use the term 'Crémant' but proposed, as an additional requirement, the criterion that traditional wine varieties should be used. This would open up the possibility of marketing Crémant under regional labels. Parliament called for prohibition of the use of 'Champagne'-type bottles for imitation sparkling wines. It also called for the labelling to include the name or business name of the producer of quality sparkling wines psr, the name of the commune or part of commune and of the Member State where the producer has his registered place of business. The labelling may be supplemented with the name of the vendor established in the Community. ?

OBJECTIVE: to adopt an amendment to Regulation (EEC) No 2332/92 on sparkling wines produced in the Community. COMMUNITY MEASURE: Council Regulation (EC) No 1428/96 amending Regulation (EEC) No 2332/92. SUBSTANCE: the amendment adopted by the Council was intended to: - specify the method of calculating the increase in the alcoholic strength of the cuvée when the tirage liqueur is added, so as to make for easier monitoring; - extend the period in which a quality sparkling wine produced in a specified region (quality sparkling wine psr) may be made in such a way that the cuvée is ameliorated by the addition of one or more wine-sector products not originating in the specified region whose name the wine bears (the names of the quality sparkling wines psr in question were to be specified in a list published in the Official Journal); - lay down a single minimum fermentation time (not less than 90 days) for which the cuvée must remain on the lees, to be observed in all the different methods used unless fermentation takes place in containers with stirrers (in this case the minimum time laid down was not less than 30 days). ENTRY INTO FORCE: 31/07/1996.?
