Regulation 2003/1765 OJ L 256 09.10.2003, p. 0001-0002 Summary

EC/Guinea fisheries agreement: protocol for the period from 1st January 2003 to 31st December 2003

PURPOSE: to extend the fishing protocol between the European Community and the Revolutionary People's Republic of Guinea by one year.

CONTENT: in 2002 a scientific survey was commissioned which sought to establish the state of fishing resources off the coast of Guinea. Due to technical difficulties this had to be postponed from June 2002 to October 2002. As a result of this delay critical data relating to fishing resources was only made available at the beginning of 2003. In the absence of further scientific and technical data the two parties concluded that a fishing Protocol establishing longer term goals will be difficult to define. Thus, the EU and Guinea are now seeking a second one-year extension of the existing Protocol. This extension, in the form of an Exchange of Letters, sets out the technical and financial conditions governing the fishing activities of Community vessels off the Guinean coast from 1 January 2003 to 31 December 2003. The Commission therefore, proposes an adoption of the Agreement in the form of an Exchange of Letters on the extension of the Protocol.?

EC/Guinea fisheries agreement: protocol for the period from 1st January 2003 to 31st December 2003

The committee adopted the report by Juan OJEDA SANZ (EPP-ED, E) approving the conclusion of the agreement under the consultation procedure, subject to just two amendments reflecting the position that Parliament has consistently adopted with regard to the renewal of various fishing agreements. Believing that Parliament should be provided with better information to enable it to carry out its duties under the consultation procedure, the committee stipulated that, before undertaking any negotiations on renewal of the Protocol, the Commission should submit to Parliament and Council a general assessment report on the implementation of the Agreement. The report should include a cost benefit analysis which should in turn ensure that the financial compensation for special measures for sustainable development contributes to improving the living conditions of the people of the country concerned. Only after this report has been received and Parliament consulted should the Council authorise the Commission to enter into negotiations for adopting a new Protocol.?
